

Local/State

SECTION B

Green Bay Press-Gazette ••• Comments? Call the Metro Desk, (414) 431-4341 Saturday, December 21, 1996

AROUND THE BAY

News today from:

• WISCONSIN COUNTY
Green Bay • Bellevue • Brown County

► KEWAUNEE COUNTY Former sheriff's hearing delayed

The initial court appearance for former Sheriff Cole Knick against charges of sexual abuse and other offenses was postponed Friday as he could have a lawyer.

► BROWN COUNTY Sentencing reset in home invasion

Rescheduling for a man convicted in the invasion of an area office in the home last August was postponed Monday, Dec. 16.

► GREEN BAY City employees feed the needy

The Salvation Army received 270 cases of canned goods Friday, thanks to the ninth annual Food Pantry Festival.

► BELLEVUE Holiday displays win poinsettias

The Bellevue Business and Professional Association is honoring those homes and one business for creative holiday decorations.

► MORE AROUND THE BAY-3

Around the Bay is a daily one-page focusing on news in communities throughout Wisconsin.

Law firms seek tobacco suit

Governor offered power to veto fees

MADISON (AP) — Two law firms hoping to represent Wisconsin tobacco companies are offering to give the governor veto power over their fees.

How lawyers will be paid

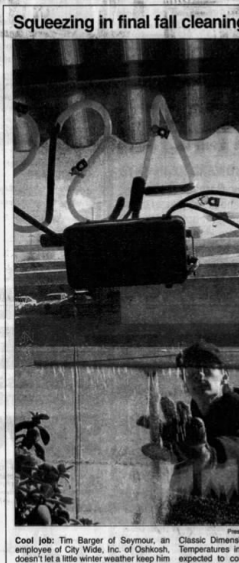

Here's how some of the 19 states will pay lawyers representing them in lawsuits against tobacco companies:

Squeezing in final fall cleaning in De Pere

Employees of City Wide, Inc. of Oshkosh, Wis., are expected to continue a winter begins from his job of washing windows at today and snow may move in by Sunday.

Little said on Fox cleanup negotiations

Paper mill, government reps meet in private, will talk again

Press-clerks from a unit recently employed by City Wide, Inc. of Oshkosh, Wis., are expected to continue a winter begins from his job of washing windows at today and snow may move in by Sunday.

7 apply for vacant County Board seat

Manville is over in her new job as Brown County clerk.

Painful parting

Retirement hard for well-known De Pere barber

What's next

The selection process for the vacant Brown County Board seat will be determined in early January, according to Board Chairman Ron DeLain.

Shear fun: Barber Jim Govers, giving Chris Hoffman of De Pere a haircut, says his years in the barbering business in De Pere have meant many enjoyable moments.

Photo: Bob Barber/B-2